

iSLCollective needs the revenue from these ads to stay alive.

Please consider disabling your Adblocker on our site or buy a subscription and get rid of the ads.

Video quiz questions (printable)

1. Unmix the sentence.

2. Fill the gap.

So earlier this year, LinkedIn published their first work change report. What are the key takeaways?

3. Match the two halves.

Not surprisingly, the 3rd trend ...the skills changes: 70%of the skills required for jobs will have is about changed by 2030

The second piece is ...entering the workforce now are likely to have more jobs than people around ... 15years ago

The first one is that people ... AI. Huge demand for AI skills, very little supply at the moment

4. Choose the correct options.

Why are professionals going to have twice as many jobs in their career as those who started in the industry 15 years ago?

The compensation

Learning experiences&personal growth are trending

People stay loyal to the company

5. Fill the gap.

For Europe, hiring is down 17% year over year, and we're seeing particular softness in countries like Germany, France and Italy

6. Guess the end.

What hiring boom is he talking about?

post Covid-19

7. Fill the gap.

The advent of AI is going to fundamentally transform the workforce and reinforces the urgency to invest in upskilling and reskilling

8. Choose the correct options.

What's the difference between men and women in recruiting now?

There are x2 of women applying for AI roles

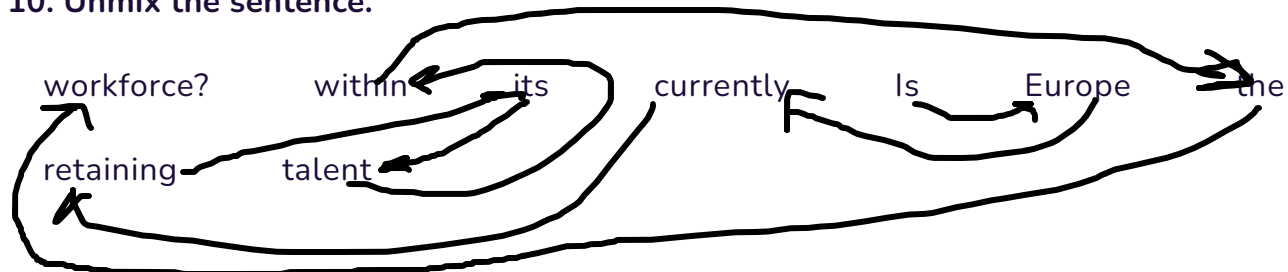

There's a thoughtful balance within the AI sector

Men apply having fewer skills required for the job

9. Fill the gap.

(since Covid) There was very much a trend of a lot more remote working and then hybrid working. How is that trend developing now?

10. Unmix the sentence.

11. Choose the correct options.

What's his overall take on the European workforce market?

there's an exodus (drain) of talent from Europe

a lot of talent is moving to Silicon Valley

in general, Europe is retaining its workforce

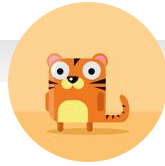

there's no potential for Europe

12. Match the two halves.

Now is the moment start experimenting with those tools on a day to day basis, not to be left to behind

If you're an employee today, understand how those technologies can influence your business and trajectory

If you're a leader today, you need to really embrace those tools

4izh
ES

4izh is from/lives in Spain and has been a member of iSLCollective since 2015-03-02. 4izh last logged in on 2026-09-11, and has shared 72 resources on iSLCollective so far.

See Portfolio

Post a comment

Start typing your comment ...

Post your comment

Comments

Be the first commenter!